

GASOLINE LINE—A line stretches down the block and around the corner as motorists wait to buy gasoline at station at lower right. Hawaiian state government will begin mandatory rationing programs similar to the one in Oregon in effort to avoid long lines and traffic congestion at service stations.

Gasoline Rationing Possibility By Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline rationing may be necessary by spring unless the Arab nations resume oil shipments to the United States, says Sen. Henry M. Jackson, who headed three days of energy crisis hearings last week.

Meanwhile, the Federal Energy Office urged utilities to cut power use by five per cent below normal next month.

The request came Sunday in the announcement of residual fuel allocations for utilities, which the FEO said will permit them to meet about 95 per cent of their normal power needs in February.

Jackson indicated Sunday that gasoline rationing may be necessary by the second quarter of the year.

"I don't think there's much doubt about it unless there are some developments overseas which indicate that we will get extra crude material," the Washington Democrat said on the CBS program "Face the Nation."

Federal energy chief William E. Simon said the February allocations to utilities will affect 148 utilities in 39 states, primarily on the east and west coasts.

Actual fuel deliveries are expected to be about five per cent less than in February 1973, FEO spokesmen said, because some utilities have switched to coal or other methods of generating power.

The allocations, FEO said, are designed to provide for 95 per cent of February needs plus to provide at least a 12-day inventory of oil by March 1.

On the NBC program "Meet the Press," Frank N. Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said he would oppose gasoline rationing except as a last resort.

Ikard also said he does not expect gasoline prices to reach the $1-a-gallon level some have predicted.

House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona, appearing on the ABC program "Issues and Answers" said he "would certainly favor some action to keep gasoline from going any higher."

In another development Sunday, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said a new Treasury Department report shows that American oil companies used the foreign-tax credit to cut their 1971 U.S. taxes by 75 per cent.

Simply by taking advantage of the credits system, he said, oil companies cut their taxes due to the United States from $3.2 billion to $788 million, he said.

Under Internal Revenue Service rules firms operating abroad can deduct most of the taxes they pay to foreign governments from U.S. taxes due.

In other energy related developments:

—Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said on the WABC-TV "Eyewitness News Conference" in New York that the oil companies should be regulated in the same manner as public utilities, if not actually transformed into utilities.

—The Saudi Arabian oil minister, Ahmed Zaki Yamani, said King Faisal is considering cutting Saudi oil prices because of concern over international trade.

Impeachment Talk Hit By Saxbe

WASHINGTON (AP) — An impeachment action against President Nixon, especially a bitter, partisan one, would tear the country apart, according to Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

But, Saxbe said, he expects Congress will not impeach Nixon, but rather will keep the action going.

"They'd rather have a crippled Nixon than a healthy, sitting Jerry Ford," Saxbe said in an interview in U.S. News & World Report.

"An impeachment action — especially a bitter, partisan impeachment, which it would have to be if no further crimes of a great nature are developed — would tear this country apart."

In other Watergate-related developments:

—House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona said Sunday the Senate Watergate committee hearings should be ended unless a good reason can be found for continuing them.

—The former boss of the White House plumbers unit, Egil "Bud" Krogh, said he is convinced from talks with former White House counsel John W. Dean III that President Nixon did not know about the Watergate cover-up as early as Dean claims he did.

—Three U.S. senators urged Nixon to resign rather than subject the country to a possible impeachment. Saxbe, asked for his prediction on the outcome of impeachment in the House, said: "My hunch is that they'll hassle it around and will not impeach on the basis of any evidence that's available to me today. They'll keep it alive."

"The nature of the evil deeds that are alleged to the President are not of an impeachable nature," Saxbe said.

"They're serious as to the moral turpitude of the people involved, and do reflect on the President. The question is one of great indiscretions in areas which, even then, have not been connected to the President, however," Saxbe said.

Krogh made his comments on the CBS program "60 Minutes" Sunday. He is scheduled to begin a six-month prison term next week for his role in the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

White House policy toward its opponents was often made out of bitterness, said Krogh. He said Ellsberg was regarded as an enemy of the United States rather than a political opponent.

Concerning Nixon's Watergate knowledge, Krogh said he met with Dean March 20, 1973, and he quoted Dean as saying, "Bud, the President is being badly served. He just doesn't know what's going on."

Dean and Nixon met the following day and the White House has maintained that it was only then that Nixon learned the full scope of the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

However, during Senate hearings Dean testified that Nixon knew of the facts in the matter well before that meeting.

Urging Nixon to resign to spare the nation the trauma of impeachment were Sens. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., on various New York news shows.

Ohio Man Found Dead In Jail Cell

ST. ROBERT, Mo. (AP)—A 47-year-old Newark, Ohio, man arrested after a traffic accident was found dead Sunday in a cell at the city jail here, Clarence Moss, Pulaski County coroner, said.

The man was identified as Donald Hilbert.

Moss said Sunday night the cause of death has not been determined. He was attempting to gain authorization from Hilbert's next of kin in Ohio to conduct an autopsy.

Hilbert was arrested by a state highway patrolman following an accident on Interstate 44 near this south-central Missouri community, Moss said. He said the accident was reported at 8:45 p. m. Saturday.

The only visible injury Hilbert apparently sustained from the mishap were some head bruises, the coroner said.

He was discovered dead in the cell at 10:50 a. m. Sunday. Moss said, "He apparently had been dead for quite some time when he was found," he added.

Moss was also attempting to establish what charge was filed against Hilbert by the patrolman.

Cypriot Leader George Grivas Dies Suddenly

LIMASSOL, Cyprus (AP) — Thousands of Greek Cypriots gathered outside a humble house in Limassol today to pay their respects to Gen. George Grivas, guerrilla hero of the independence struggle against the British who died Sunday of a heart attack.

The body of the frail, 75-year-old soldier who two years ago launched a new guerrilla movement to fight for Enosis, union with Greece, lay on a simple iron bed, covered with the Greek flag and banked with floral wreaths.

Ignoring the underground war he had been waging since 1971 to overthrow President Makarios, the Greek government hailed Grivas as a national hero. And while Makarios had no immediate comment on the death of his old comrade and recent bitter foe, all Greek Cypriot schools were closed for three days of mourning.

Grivas died and lay in state in the house he used as his headquarters when he led his EOKA army of guerrillas against the British.

There was no immediate indication whether Grivas would be buried in Cyprus, his birthplace, or whether he would be given a state funeral in Greece, where he spent much of his life.

Grivas' aides, in their announcement Sunday night of his death,

Weather

Cloudy and mild with occasional rain today and possible heavy rain by tonight. High today, low 50s; low tonight, upper 30s. Cloudy and cool with chances of rain Tuesday morning, high, mid 40s. Probability of precipitation, 80 per cent today and tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Sunday were: high, 57; low, 34.

said before he died he had named his successor, and his new EOKA army's struggle for Enosis would continue. But opinion was divided over whether the small band of guerrillas — estimated at only a few hundred men — could survive without the old general's dedicated leadership and mystique.

Some observers predicted the movement would soon collapse. Others expressed belief that younger, more extreme elements held in check by Grivas would embark on a far bloodier attack than the old general would allow.

Until recently EOKA's bombs resulted in few deaths or serious injuries. But the murders of two pro-Makarios villagers last week prompted local press comment that Grivas, long reported ailing, was losing his grip on the wilder men of his organization.

Hundreds of angry villagers denounced EOKA's tactics at the funerals of the two victims, and there were protest strikes against the guerrillas. Makarios had already branded his old associate a common criminal, and last week neutral members of parliament announced they would do likewise unless Grivas renounced violence by next Thursday. The old general died without replying.

Grivas, a native Cypriot and an officer in the Greek army, became a legend for his leadership of the original EOKA underground that fought the British occupation from 1955 to 1959.

Grivas was the military leader of the struggle, Archbishop Makarios the political and spiritual leader. But Grivas broke with the archbishop when the latter agreed to independence without enosis because Turkey threatened to go to war against Greece to block it.

Wisconsin Teen Held In Murders

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A Milwaukee, Wis., teen-ager has been jailed in Nassau in a police investigation of three tourist murders, the latest a high school girl from Detroit.

Asst. Police Commissioner John Crowley said Mischia Shobek, 19, would be taken before a magistrate today for a formal charge in connection with the slaying of Katherine Smith, 17, a student at Northwestern High School in Detroit.

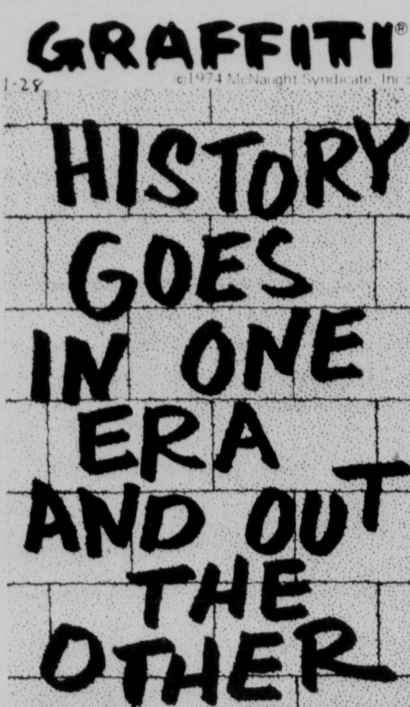

Shobek was also being questioned in the violent deaths of Paul Howell, 50, a Massillon, Ohio, attorney slain Dec. 5, and Irwin Bernstein, 44, of Ocean City, N. J., killed Jan. 18, Crowley said.

The body of Miss Smith was found Saturday covered with a cardboard box in a ditch. She had been strangled. Miss Smith was with a group of students chaperoned by two teachers, Crowley said, and was last seen in the company of Shobek on Friday night. The group was staying at a hotel on nearby Paradise Island.

Howell was attending a convention of the Ohio Bar Association at another hotel on Paradise Island when he was killed in his room by an intruder last month.

Bernstein, an accountant, was found murdered in Yamacraw Beach.

Police said the youth in custody in this tourist city off the Florida coast last November had been living in area hotels on-and-off.

Gilligan Energy Bill Under Close Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republicans plan to take a close look at Gov. John J. Gilligan's emergency energy bill.

Spokesmen for the GOP, which has a 17-16 edge in the Senate and enough House votes to block emergency legislation, say Gilligan may be asking for "too much too fast."

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Columbus, said he has "a couple of concerns" about the bill to let Gilligan name a state energy czar, an emergency energy board and to set up a state energy office, all with as yet undefined powers.

Gray said he fears the new operation might place another layer of bureaucracy between the energy providers and the people, and that it could cause trouble because many of the problems are interstate in nature.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, said Gilligan "is asking for too much power." He also was critical of the bill for not being specific enough.

Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, is expected to introduce the administration bill this week in the upper chamber so that hearings can be held simultaneously with the House. Rep. Thomas J. Carnev, D-71 Youngstown, introduced it in the House last Thursday.

The initial hearing will be held Wednesday night by the House Select Committee on Energy. The bill contains an emergency clause to make it effective when signed by the governor.

House Democrats who number 58 will need to muster eight GOP votes to obtain the needed two-thirds majority, provided they hold ranks.

In other committee activity this week, the Senate Judiciary Committee will open hearings Wednesday on a House bill that would abolish the Sundry Claims Board and replace it with a State Court of Claims. The same bill would bring an end to the state's sovereign immunity and permit suits to be brought against the state.

The same committee also will consider another House-passed measure that would set up a state public defender's office and a network of regional offices to provide legal counsel for poor defendants.

The House Transportation

Committee will consider Wednesday morning an emergency bill lowering Ohio's speed limit to 55 miles per hour to comply with the new federal requirement. The measure cleared the Select Committee on energy last week.

Rep. William Hinig's bill to reduce assessments for personal property taxes from near 60 per cent down to 35 per cent will be brought up at 9:30 a. m. by the House Ways & Means Committee.

Hinig, D-96 New Philadelphia, proposes step-by-step reductions over a five-year period as an incentive for new and expanded industry.

Hearings resume in the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday night on a pair of bills by Rep. Donna Pope, R-12 Parma, to conform Ohio's obscenity laws with a 1973 decision of the U.S. Supreme Court. That decision basically left determinations as to what constitutes obscenity up to state and local officials.

Some lawmakers will take a break from the graver issues of the day on Wednesday morning at simultaneous hearings in the House State Government Committee and the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee.

Members of those panels will be considering identical resolutions asking that the ladybug be made the state insect. A group of school children from Toledo studied the noble predator of harmful insects and asked their representatives—Sen. Howard C. Cook, R-1, Toledo, and Rep. Kurfess to introduce the legislation.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its slow but steady downward drift today amid uncertainties over the Mideast.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was down 5.53 to 853.86, while advances and declines were about even on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said that the absence of news developments in the Mideast was leaving investors uneasy as to the next move.

The prime-rate reduction announced by several banks gave a boost to the market, brokers said, but this was not sufficient to overcome Mideast and economic worries.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index at noon was up .23 to 97.11, while the NYSE composite index was off .20 to 51.46.

Other Big Board prices included Minnesota Mining, off 1 to 75½; Sohio, which announced lower fourth-quarter profits, down 2¼ to 59¼; General Motors, up ¼ to 50½; Allied Chemical, down ¼ to 44½; and Anaconda, off ¼ to 26½.

Ohio Democrats Can't Get Quorum

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Executive Committee has not been able to make an endorsement for secretary of state.

Less than half of the 96-member group attended the meeting at party headquarters Saturday. Forty-nine were needed before any official action could be taken, and 46 appeared.

Several of those on hand criticized the absentees. James Friedman of Cleveland suggested the party organization make the offenders names public and launch an investigation as to why they were absent.

While the executive committee didn't act at its open meeting, the 27-member state Democratic Screening Committee reportedly agreed State Commerce Director Dennis Shaul would be the best candidate to oppose incumbent Ted W. Brown in November.

Although Shaul put his name before the committee Thursday, he said he would not make an official announcement of his candidacy until after action by the executive committee.

State Chairman William Lavelle apologized for the absenteeism saying he had been assured in telephone calls that enough people would be there. As it was, the meeting was delayed more than an hour waiting for a plane to bring several members from Cleveland.

Lavelle assured Friedman and others who objected to the absenteeism "these people are going to be leaned on like never before." He added he would list their names and their reasons for not attending.

William Boyle, a Lucas County Board of elections member was especially bitter. Secretary of State Brown has said he will not replace Boyle when his term expires.

"He's going to laugh at me," Boyle said. "I'm humiliated and embarrassed at my own party. We can't even get enough people together to name a candidate to oppose him."

Former astronaut John Glenn said he was under the impression anybody missing two to four meetings could be

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its slow but steady downward drift today amid uncertainties over the Mideast.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was down 5.53 to 853.86, while advances and declines were about even on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said that the absence of news developments in the Mideast was leaving investors uneasy as to the next move.

The prime-rate reduction announced by several banks gave a boost to the market, brokers said, but this was not sufficient to overcome Mideast and economic worries.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index at noon was up .23 to 97.11, while the NYSE composite index was off .20 to 51.46.

Other Big Board prices included Minnesota Mining, off 1 to 75½; Sohio, which announced lower fourth-quarter profits, down 2¼ to 59¼; General Motors, up ¼ to 50½; Allied Chemical, down ¼ to 44½; and Anaconda, off ¼ to 26½.

Commissioners Approve Bridge Painting Project

Pickaway County Commissioners today approved a joint project with Ross County and Division 9, Ohio Department of Transportation, to paint the County Line Road bridge over Route 23.

The two counties will pay one fourth each of the cost of the project and the state will pay one half of the cost.

Commissioners met with Circleville Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe to discuss recommended maintenance to Memorial Hall, including repair of the floors in the rest rooms, replacement of broken window panes in basement windows, replacement of a panel in an attic door. Commissioner Dick Tootle moved the recommended repairs be completed as quickly as possible.

Commissioners have been invited to attend a meeting to discuss emergency vehicle service for Darby Twp. in Pickaway county and adjacent communities in Fayette and Madison Counties.

They have also been invited to attend a meeting at Darbydale to discuss making Darby Creek a national scenic river.

Last week commissioners appointed John Dunlap to the Pickaway County Airport Authority for a five year term, approved the purchase of portable power generators by the civil defense at a cost of $300, made application for law enforcement action project grant in the amount of $8,550 to be used by the juvenile court.

Soviets May Sell
Flour To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's order to suspend import quotas on wheat and flour until U.S. farmers begin gathering an expected record 1974 crop is producing a rash of speculation, including rumors bakers may buy some Soviet flour to help make bread for Americans.

The rumors, which surfaced following Nixon's order Friday, were viewed skeptically by Agriculture Department officials and wheat-producer representatives.

Nixon, as had been expected, suspended annual import quotas of 800,000 bushels of milling wheat and 4 million pounds of flour. That means that until June 30, millers and bakers can import all they choose. Canada is the traditional source for most.

A Page Of Opinion

The Injured

In the war against traffic slaughter on the nation's highways, the greatest emphasis has been placed on deaths. Certainly it is tragic that more than 50,000 persons a year are killed on the streets and roads.

But often ignored in this approach is the appalling fact that more than 2 million persons are injured annually on the highways. Translate this into 2 million broken or lost limbs, eyes or other organs, into loss of physical and mental health, and the picture appears even more tragic.

It is bad enough that in the 14 million property damage accidents annually economic losses total more than $10 billion.

But the cost in terms of lost life, lost hope and lost years is the most sickening factor. This is the cost the nation pays for the freedom too many drivers translate into meaning "the laws, the speed limits, they're for the other guy."

Taxis'll Get Another Rise

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—PEOPLE ... PLACES ... New York is a great place to live, but I'd sure hate to visit there. For example, the visitor who uses a taxi as his means of getting around in the Big Town may soon be startled to see a charge of 80 cents on the meter as soon as the cabbie's flag does down. This will be before he is transported one inch into the surging crosstown becalmment.

The proposal for the new "drop" fare is based on the rising cost of gas, of course. New Yorkers, on the other hand, will accept it as part of their divine right to live amidst the greatest collection of potholes this side of the surface of the moon. No inconvenience or outrage is too much for the New Yorker. He is inured. He accepts, regardless. He is never given to bursts of civic pride comparable to that of the denizens of, say Lompoc Northwest, California. Maybe it's because the New Yorker has learned, while on visits out of the city and state, that people tend to look at him in an odd way when the place of his residence is established in conversation.

"You don't mean you live in New York City?" the out-of-towner will say in a tone laced with a mixture of disbelief and revulsion.

"Yeah," you say, head down like a guilty euthanasic.

"How can you stand it?" is the usual response. And there never is a suitable or understandable answer.

A Bowery bum, pulled to his feet from a gutter by a cop, gave the only plausible answer, once upon a time. The cop looked at the bleary-eyed derelict and said, "Look at you! You're a disgrace to the race. Get out of this lousy town and get a fresh start in some good clean place—like Detroit. Just look at yourself, and see what this town has done to you."

The unsteady bum found his voice. "I'll never leave New York," he said, thick dignity in his speech.

"But why won't you?" the cop thundered.

"Because you can buy things later here," the bum explained.

Only bonafide New Yorkers could understand. So-o-o one of the things we'll be buying later, sooner than later, is this new taxi fare. But there is one thing that can be said about it. It will be one more claim to fame for our town. We'll be able to say (if we ever get around to talking about ourselves) that we have the highest cab fare for the worst cabs in the world.

We won't complain to the drivers, of course. By and large, they've cut off communications with us by erecting a bulletproof plastic window between front and back seats. They wouldn't be able to hear us squawk. Not that we ever would, of course.

White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler made a rare appearance before the White House press, of all people, and said that President Nixon "is determined not to be consumed for another year by the Watergate matter. He fully intends to complete his three years in office and is not entertaining at all the subject of resignation."

Hope so. But the inexorable tide of almost daily disclosures about Watergate, the operations in the court of Judge John Sirica, the continuing work of a couple of grand juries, the impeachment sessions of the House Judiciary Committee, Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski's ominous statement that one or more of the President's past or present associates have been offering him evidence in the hope of gaining clemency for themselves, the reopening of Senate Watergate committee hearings, tapes, taxes and a dozen other haunts, make it difficult for the President not to be "consumed."

If the case is made that Henry Kissinger perjured himself when he swore under oath that he knew nothing about the operations of the White House plumbers while he was running the National Security Council, the President will be stripped of one of his last badges of honor.

To keep from being consumed by a tragedy of that dimension would require of the President the attributes of a salamander.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Friends tell me increasing red tape is making life more complicated in the United States. But after four years in Latin America, I am convinced I am living in the bureaucrat's paradise.

Everything is complicated. I used to live and work in one country where just going to the post office was a trial. Each window, manned by a snarling woman in a blue smock, sold different kinds of stamps.

After shuttling about long lines several days a week, I was forced by necessity to bribe an office boy to mail my letters for me.

I used to pay local taxes in another country. Since nobody there pays taxes unless absolutely necessary, the tax authorities have hit upon an ingenious solution.

Nobody leaves the country without a document from the authorities saying all taxes have paid up to date.

I had to pay my taxes monthly with a visit to the Treasury Ministry. My first trip there went smoothly until I was asked for the tax stamps.

"What tax stamps?"

"Why the stamps to prove that you've paid the tax on paying your taxes," said the illtempered lady behind the desk. I should have known. She was wearing one of those blue smocks.

"OK, sell me some stamps," I muttered.

"We don't sell them," she said. "Go

Everybody except the sovereign state of Nevada and the U.S. Congress knows exactly where Howard Hughes lurks: The penthouse of the Xanadu Princess Hotel, Grand Bahamas. The official notice that he appear and give evidence about the $100,000 he gave to Bebe Rebozo to give to the President's reelection program was sent to a Las Vegas office. "The last known address," a Fed said. The letter was returned with a stamped notice that Hughes had departed and "left no forwarding address."

So, the guess is that Hughes will not be in the cast of characters seen on camera when old Sam Ervin resumes his prayer meeting.

Vice President Ford says that he hasn't had time to read the transcripts given to him by the White House which Ford declares will clear President Nixon.

This has to be a new AAU record for absence of curiosity. It's vaguely comparable to checking into a Waldorf suite with Zsa Zsa and then spending the night shooting baskets at the YMCA.

to the post office."

The next month, I was prepared. I invested $5 in tax stamps and dutifully pasted them on the back of my tax declaration and my check.

"Oh, you shouldn't have done that," said the woman in the blue smock inspecting my stamp collection.

"But you told me the last time I needed tax stamps to prove that I've paid the taxes on paying my taxes?"

"That was last month. The regulations were changed. You don't have to use stamps anymore. But you will have to give me a new check and make out another declaration. We can't accept any documents with stamps on them."

I've decided to write a book for foreigners on how to cope with Latin-American red tape.

For more information, just write me. The letters must be in triplicate, typewritten, one inch margins and signed in ink, not ball-point.

One more thing, don't forget the tax stamps.

ROTHRIST, Switzerland (AP) — Dr. Robert Barth, managing director of Rivella Ltd., says he spends 15 minutes a day yodeling.

He finds it relaxing physically and mentally.

He does it everywhere he goes and says his neighbors have never complained. "In fact I am inspiring them to do it," says Dr. Barth.

Thought for today: Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. King Solomon, about 973-933 B.C.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I for one am deeply concerned the city administration has become so insensitive to the needs of the elderly of this fine community.

I am sure our parents didn't bring us up to be so unconcerned when they became old or disabled and unable to lead lucrative and productive lives that their needs should be ignored or taken advantage of.

Most retired or elderly people are on limited incomes and can barely have enough to meet the needs of each day. Why should the city fathers feel they can give them a true water billing only every three months? In case they should have a water leak of which they may be unaware, should they have to pay an estimated bill which may be too low they would be hit with an exorbitant bill two or three months hence.

Perhaps even a big plumbing bill on top of that? The same holds true for younger families who are on minimum income or laid off because of the energy crisis and on welfare or whatever.

The higher the rate, the less service we receive. I think our city fathers need to wake up. Everyone knows that our water and sewer rate are high enough that the city could afford to hire enough help to read the meters monthly. It would provide a few more jobs and help the general economy of the city.

No wonder so many families are wanting to live outside the corporation. The general public cannot stand the financial pressures imposed on it by this volatile inflationary age.

Speak up, residents of Circleville and let your true feelings be known. It takes a majority, not a minority, of public opinion to get response to the needs of John Q. Public. Let your city officials know how you feel about these matters.

Let us use the free press and address ourselves to city council by public forum. We can't be ignored if we speak loudly and freely publicly.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

In a recent column, I wrote about the overwhelming problems that surround people who are unable to handle retirement.

Added hours and forced leisure are very difficult to manipulate, and produce in many people a sense of despair.

Retirement and leisure must be planned for many years in advance so that an abrupt dislocation from work does not mean an abrupt dislocation from living.

I received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. G. M. in Ohio which highlighted the continued hope and joy in store for elderly people who utilize well their newly found leisure.

"We are a retired, but very happy couple in our new life," they write. "We have become foster parents to homeless and neglected children and devote ourselves to bringing happiness into their lives."

"True, they stay and later leave to go into adoptive homes. But as they leave, others come. Concerned friends have said, 'How can you stand it to see them leave?' We remind them that there is special joy for us in bridging the gap until they go into their permanent homes."

"Since our retirement we have shared our home with 195 children.

Tell your readers to try it."

Many others readers have written to tell me about the most ingenious methods they have devised for the constructive utilization of their time and the enhancement of the pleasures of a retired living.

Would you please explain the difference in chest pains due to heart attacks, gall bladder disease, and ulcers?

Mrs. M.J.W., Conn.

Dear Mrs. W.:
Dozens of massive medical textbooks are devoted to the subtleties of differential diagnosis.

Numerous factors are taken into consideration before a doctor rules out one cause and definitely establishes another as a reason for chest pain.

The gall bladder and the stomach "make an awful lot of noise" and sympathetically refer confusing pain to the front or the back of the chest.

No one without medical training should interpret symptoms of pain and the radiation of pain.

Many different illnesses have similar symptoms. Comparing your symptoms with those of a friend can lead to confusion and unnecessary apprehension.

Business World

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The corporate executive who succeeds the "great man," the person who built the company, will often find himself walking in a shadow so deep and dark that he has a 50-50 chance of tripping on his face.

So hazardous is the assignment, suggests Prof. Eugene Jennings, that the executive so chosen might seriously consider biding his time and letting someone else take the job until the great man's presence fades.

When the first successor fails to fill the great man's void, the patient executive then can step forward. The second successor, says Jennings, stands a 70 per cent chance of keeping the job for at least five years.

Jennings, a Michigan State professor of business administration, psychologist, author, and executive and corporate consultant, cites the airline industry as an ideal illustration.

C.R. Smith, American Airlines chief during its period of greatest growth, was succeeded by George Spater, who soon lost the job.

George Keck followed William Patterson at United, and he too failed to keep the spot.

Same with Najeeb Halaby, who succeeded Juan Trippe at Pan American. And the list doesn't end there.

Of those who fail, said Jennings, who has studied such happenings since 1948, about 40 per cent are fired outright, 30 per cent leave voluntarily, and 30 per cent are shelved, or moved out of the line of command.

One of the reasons for the dismal record of first successors is that the great man tends to hang around in the wings, despite his promises not to do so. Even if he isn't physically present, his shadow is.

Here are some of the explanations Jennings has found:

1. The job is impossible to fill. Not even the great man can fill his own shoes, because the system he has built is really bigger than any man. The great man doesn't know it, but even he hasn't been filling his shoes for a long time.

2. The great man doesn't delegate authority when he is building the company. As a result, the successor has never been properly trained. There is no way for him to get the total weight of the office on his back.

3. The system the great man built is responsive to him, not to the successor. The new man has different strengths and weaknesses and the system doesn't know how to react to them.

An employee's entire security system may be built around the way he responded to the old man, said Jennings. He cannot change easily. Typically, the successor at some time or other has to cry out:

"I'm not the old man. That's not the way we do it now. There's a new landlord around here."

4. The great man stays long after he should have gone, and as a consequence leaves a faulty chain of command. In the process of scrambling for the great man's favor, potential successors often spatter each other with mud.

This forces the great man to reach down below the first level of lieutenants and pick an inexperienced but relatively untarnished successor from the third level.

That man often will lack seasoning, and so be weak and inadequate. And those who wanted the job but didn't get it will be inclined to skewer him.

5. When the great man hangs around too long he tends to put many decisions on the back burner. He is far below the height of his powers, but he doesn't realize it.

When the new man takes over he is suddenly presented with decisions that have reached crisis stage. He is amazed by all the problems he didn't know existed. In effect, he is presented with a battle for personal survival.

Whether he survives, says Jennings, can almost be decided by the flip of a coin.

Missing Boy Being Sought

MENTOR, Ohio (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol joined the Mentor police Sunday in the search for a 6-year-old boy missing since Friday.

Timothy J. Malenda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen E. Malenda, was last seen by a neighbor Friday night, according to the boy's father.

The boy was last seen playing near home by members of the family.

Police centered their search over the weekend in the rugged, swampy, wooded terrain around the Mentor lagoon which is practically in the Malendas' backyard.

Carousel Restoration Is Expensive

VALENCIA, Calif. (AP) — A 1912 classic carousel that operated 50 years at the Savin Rock Amusement Park, West Haven, Conn., is now located at Magic Mountain, an amusement park near Los Angeles. When new, the carousel sold for $15,000. Magic Mountain paid more than $200,000 to have it restored.

A Page Of Opinion

The Injured

In the war against traffic slaughter on the nation's highways, the greatest emphasis has been placed on deaths. Certainly it is tragic that more than 50,000 persons a year are killed on the streets and roads.

But often ignored in this approach is the appalling fact that more than 2 million persons are injured annually on the highways. Translate this into 2 million broken or lost limbs, eyes or other organs, into loss of physical and mental health, and the picture appears even more tragic.

It is bad enough that in the 14 million property damage accidents annually economic losses total more than $10 billion.

But the cost in terms of lost life, lost hope and lost years is the most sickening factor. This is the cost the nation pays for the freedom too many drivers translate into meaning "the laws, the speed limits, they're for the other guy."

Taxis'll Get Another Rise

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—PEOPLE PLACES... New York is a great place to live, but I'd sure hate to visit there. For example, the visitor who uses a taxi as his means of getting around in the Big Town may soon be startled to see a charge of 80 cents on the meter as soon as the cabbie's flag does down. This will be before he is transported one inch into the surging crosstown becalmment.

The proposal for the new "drop" fare is based on the rising cost of gas, of course. New Yorkers, on the other hand, will accept it as part of their divine right to live amidst the greatest collection of potholes this side of the surface of the moon. No inconvenience or outrage is too much for the New Yorker. He is injured. He accepts, regardless. He is never given to bursts of civic pride comparable to that of the denizens of, say, Lompoc Northwest, California. Maybe it's because the New Yorker has learned, while on visits out of the city and state, that people tend to look at him in an odd way when the place of his residence is established in conversation.

"You don't mean you live in New York City?" the out-of-towner will say in a tone laced with a mixture of disbelief and revulsion.

"Yeah," you say, head down like a guilty euthanasic.

"How can you stand it?" is the usual response. And there never is a suitable or understandable answer.

A Bowery bum, pulled to his feet from a gutter by a cop, gave the only plausible answer, once upon a time. The cop looked at the bleary-eyed derelict and said, "Look at you! You're a disgrace to the race. Get out of this lousy town and get a fresh start in some good clean place—like Detroit. Just look at yourself, and see what this town has done to you."

The unsteady bum found his voice. "I'll never leave New York," he said, thick dignity in his speech.

"But why won't you?" the cop thundered.

"Because you can buy things later here," the bum explained.

Only bonafide New Yorkers could understand. So-o-o one of the things we'll be buying later, sooner than later, is this new taxi fare. But there is one thing that can be said about it. It will be one more claim to fame for our town. We'll be able to say (if we ever get around to talking about ourselves) that we have the highest cab fare for the worst cabs in the world.

We won't complain to the drivers, of course. By and large, they've cut off communications with us by erecting a bulletproof plastic window between front and back seats. They wouldn't be able to hear us squawk. Not that we ever would, of course.

White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler made a rare appearance before the White House press, of all people, and said that President Nixon "is determined not to be consumed for another year by the Watergate matter. He fully intends to complete his three years in office and is not entertaining

Hope so. But the inexorable tide of almost daily disclosures about Watergate, the operations in the court of Judge John Sirica, the continuing work of a couple of grand juries, the impeachment sessions of the House Judiciary Committee, Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski's ominous statement that one or more of the President's past or present associates have been offering him evidence in the hope of gaining clemency for themselves, the reopening of Senate Watergate committee hearings, tapes, taxes and a dozen other haunts, make it difficult for the President not to be "consumed."

If the case is made that Henry Kissinger perjured himself when he swore under oath that he knew nothing about the operations of the White House plumbers while he was running the National Security Council, the President will be stripped of one of his last badges of honor.

To keep from being consumed by a tragedy of that dimension would require of the President the attributes of a salamander.

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Friends tell me increasing red tape is making life more complicated in the United States. But after four years in Latin America, I am convinced I am living in the bureaucrat's paradise.

Everything is complicated. I used to live and work in one country where just going to the post office was a trial. Each window, manned by a snarling woman in a blue smock, sold different kinds of stamps.

After shuttling about long lines several days a week, I was forced by necessity to bribe an office boy to mail my letters for me.

I used to pay local taxes in another country. Since nobody there pays taxes unless absolutely necessary, the tax authorities have hit upon an ingenious solution.

Nobody leaves the country without a document from the authorities saying all taxes have paid up to date.

I had to pay my taxes monthly with a visit to the Treasury Ministry. My first trip there went smoothly until I was asked for the tax stamps.

"What tax stamps?"

"Why the stamps to prove that you've paid the tax on paying your taxes," said the illtempered lady behind the desk. I should have known. She was wearing one of those blue smocks.

"OK, sell me some stamps," I muttered.

"We don't sell them," she said. "Go

Everybody except the sovereign state of Nevada and the U.S. Congress knows exactly where Howard Hughes lurks: The penthouse of the Xanadu Princess Hotel, Grand Bahamas. The official notice that he appear and give evidence about the $100,000 he gave to Bebe Rebozo to give to the President's reelection program was sent to a Las Vegas office. "The last known address," a Fed said. The letter was returned with a stamped notice that Hughes had departed and "left no forwarding address."

So, the guess is that Hughes will not be in the cast of characters seen on camera when old Sam Ervin resumes his prayer meeting.

Vice President Ford says that he hasn't had time to read the transcripts given to him by the White House which Ford declares will clear President Nixon.

This has to be a new AAU record for absence of curiosity. It's vaguely comparable to checking into a Waldorf suite with Zsa Zsa and then spending the night shooting baskets at the YMCA.

to the post office."

The next month, I was prepared. I invested $5 in tax stamps and dutifully pasted them on the back of my tax declaration and my check.

"Oh, you shouldn't have done that," said the woman in the blue smock inspecting my stamp collection.

"But you told me the last time I needed tax stamps to prove that I've paid the taxes on paying my taxes?"

"That was last month. The regulations were changed. You don't have to use stamps anymore. But you will have to give me a new check and make out another declaration. We can't accept any documents with stamps on them."

I've decided to write a book for foreigners on how to cope with Latin-American red tape.

For more information, just write me. The letters must be in triplicate, typewritten, one inch margins and signed in ink, not ball-point.

One more thing, don't forget the tax stamps.

Inspiring Yodel

ROTHRIST, Switzerland (AP) — Dr. Robert Barth, managing director of Rivella Ltd., says he spends 15 minutes a day yodeling.

He finds it relaxing physically and mentally.

He does it everywhere he goes and says his neighbors have never complained. "In fact I am inspiring them to do it," says Dr. Barth.

Studying Flexible Working Hours

"The effects of flexible hour employment on employers and employees are still largely speculative," said Jean L. McCarrey, president of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation, in announcing a new Foundation research project of flexible scheduling.

"Both opponents and proponents of the flexible time concept claim it will have a major impact on society," continued Miss McCarrey, "but there is still a need for serious study to substantiate the potential advantages and disadvantages. We hope that our project will contribute needed data and provide some of the answers employers must have if they are to consider the use of flexible hour scheduling."

The effects of flexible hour programs have been a subject of frequent controversy. Proponents of the system claim that in addition to the release of a reservoir of untapped talent and increased worker satisfaction, flexible scheduling would have tremendous impact on such corollary issues as transportation and traffic control, the energy crisis, continuing education, retirement planning and child care.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Sex Object

DEAR ABBY: The other night, after a fairly calm evening with friends, my husband offered me to one of his friends. You can't imagine how much this hurt me.

I did the only thing I could think of doing. I refused in no uncertain terms, even though he tried his best to talk me into it.

My husband and I finally went to bed, and made love before going to sleep. I love my husband, but I doubt that he really loves me. He has tried to get me to go to bed with his friends before, and every time I've told him no, and not to ask me again, but he keeps on trying.

I have told my husband that if I want sex outside of my marriage, I will do the choosing, but so far I am satisfied with him alone.

June Wedding Planned By Couple

PATRICIA SUE ROBINSON

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Robinson, Route 3, Dunkle Road, Circleville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Sue, to Keith L. Smith Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith L. Smith, 7463 Ohio St., Mentor, Ohio.

Miss Robinson is a graduate of Circleville High School and The Ohio State University College of Education, majoring in speech and hearing therapy and minoring in psychology. She is presently employed as a pre-school teacher at Alexander Graham Bell School for the Deaf in Columbus and is taking graduate courses in deaf education at The Ohio State University.

Mr. Smith, a former resident of Circleville, is a graduate of Mentor High School and The Ohio State University College of Engineering, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering. He has taken graduate work in business administration from The Ohio State University. He is employed with General Electric and is on temporary assignment in Appliance Park, Louisville, Ky.

The couple has selected June 22nd for their wedding. The ceremony will take place at Community United Methodist Church, Circleville.

University Mothers Meet With Husbands

Capital University Mother's Club will meet with their husbands, Feb. 7th, at 8 p.m., in the South Dining Room of the Campus Center.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. John S. Plinke, Athletic Director of Capital University. Mrs. E. L. McClelland will be in charge of devotions. Social hospitality committee members are: Mrs. William Pfeiffer, Mrs. Harold Yochum, Mrs. G. H. Doermann, Mrs. Howard Magley, Mrs. Paul Lindquist and Mrs. James Lauer.

Recipes sometimes direct you to dissolve gelatin in liquid over low heat. You can be sure the gelatin is dissolved if there are no visible granules. Always stir the gelatin-liquid mixture while you are dissolving the gelatin.

I get depressed every time I think about my husband's wanting to pass me around to his friends, and lately I've been taking it out on our 2-year-old son: I am open for suggestions.

NOT FOR LENDING
DEAR NOT: My suggestion would be to leave him, and look for a man who would respect his marriage vows as you respect yours. But first I would give him an opportunity to get his head together. If he refuses counseling, then leave him unless you want to continue to live with a man who regards his wife as his personal property and a sex object to pass around to his friends.

DEAR ABBY: I am one woman who is against women's lib because it advocates free love for women as well as for men.

Maybe I'm peculiar, but I don't want any free love before marriage. What I do want is a man whose moral standards are just as high as mine.

Why should a girl remain pure for a husband who has slept with so many girls he has lost count?

"20 AND STILL PURE"
DEAR "20": If you've reached 20, and are still holding, hooray for you! Women's libbers are pushing for the same privileges for women as men. That doesn't necessarily mean they advocate promiscuity for everyone, they simply want one standard for both sexes, which is what you want, no?

DEAR ABBY: The barking dog problem can be solved, and very easily. Our neighbors simply would not believe that their dog, which they kept outside on a chain day and night, barked and howled constantly when they were not home. Our patients grew thin, especially on Sunday when they drove off somewhere for the entire day.

One Sunday we put our tape recorder out under our bedroom window, and made a two-hour recording of the canine concert. When they returned after their Sunday sojourn we hid the recorder in our bushes, locked our patio gates, turned up the volume, and went to the movies.

In two days the dog had disappeared.

TRANQUIL IN TUCSON
DEAR TRANQUIL: This may not have helped your friendship with those neighbors, but it certainly did improve the neighborhood.

Cincy Area Births Fall To 16,016

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Births in the Cincinnati area fell to 16,016 last year, and the Greater Cincinnati Hospital Council reports the area's birth rate is the lowest since the depression days of the 1930s.

"It's a whole changing pattern in mores," said Jerry Ransahoff, executive director of the council. "Birth control is an accepted way of life, much more broadly than it was 10 years ago."

Firm To Pay Fine Over Solicitations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Insurance Director Kenneth DeShetler says the Standard Life and Accident Insurance Co. of Oklahoma City, Okla., has agreed to pay Ohio a $5,000 fine for unlicensed solicitations.

DeShetler said the company violated state insurance regulations when it sent letters to university students in Ohio offering to sell them policies. The person who signed the circular was not licensed at the time to sell insurance in Ohio, DeShetler said.

Not To Mention Magazines

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Pollution begets pollution, at least in the classroom, says a University of Connecticut professor.

"Students and teachers have found themselves suffocating under carloads of leaflets, buttons, pamphlets, posters, stickers, club membership cards, kits, records, films, filmstrips, activity collections, newsletters, reports and guides," writes science education Prof. Dr. Odward E. Dyrli in the November issue of "Learning."

Freak Storm Hits Ohio On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freak storm ripped through Ohio late Saturday and early Sunday, downing power lines and damaging some homes.

In Crawford County, the town of Ocoila lost electrical power and telephone connections for more than 12 hours after being hit by strong rain and wind.

At least 15 homes along the main street of the town of 100 were severely damaged, the sheriff's department said. One teen-age boy was hospitalized. His injuries were described as minor.

Many of the county's 50,000 population were without electricity Sunday morning, with the exception of Bucyrus, the county seat.

Funnel clouds were spotted in Seneca and Crawford counties. The National Weather Service clocked winds of 67 miles per hour in Youngstown and 62 m.p.h. in Mansfield.

Average winds through the state exceeded 30 m.p.h., the service said.

A radio station antenna in Springfield was toppled. In Columbus, winds knocked a radio antenna onto some electric lines, sparking a fire at an electric equipment manufacturing plant.

Three airplanes at a private airport near Troy were damaged when a hangar collapsed after a severe gust, authorities said.

Firm Reports Sales Increase

The company announced net earnings of $1,515,514, or 32 cents per share, compared to net earnings of $1,411,583, or 30 cents per share a year ago.

Coal Becomes Star In State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Suddenly, sulphurous Ohio coal, an ecological outcast, is the belle of the ball.

It may belch sulphur oxides and pollute the air, but Ohio coal produces 99 per cent of the state's electric power more cheaply than it can be done by petroleum.

That puts Ohio in an enviable position in the energy crisis.

"Over the next 10 or 15 years, dependence upon coal may give Ohio industries a competitive advantage over their counterparts in Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey," said Herbert F. Thomson, professor of economics at Muskingum College, in a survey in Ohio State University's Bulletin of Business Research.

"Aluminum reduction plants and other large consumers of electric power have already located in Ohio for the sake of an assured supply of inexpensive electric power."

And, exotic nuclear electric power isn't about to steal the show in the next decade or so. By 1983, if forecasts are correct, nuclear power will be producing only about 23 per cent of Ohio's total electric power.

Ohio's present electric power capacity is about 20,000 megawatts. It is expected to just about double in the next 10 years to 40,000 megawatts.

But, only four nuclear power plants currently are projected for Ohio with a total capacity of 9,100 megawatts.

The four plants and their schedules include:

—David-Besse on Lake Erie near Port Clinton, being constructed by Toledo Edison in partnership with Cleveland Electric Illuminating and Ohio Edison. Its first 900-megawatt unit is scheduled to go active in May, 1975. Its second unit is to be finished in 1981, its third in 1983.

REMNANT THOUGHTS

By Bob Griffith

I think it is the fondest hope of most fathers that their sons will join them in his business. I have been richly blessed in this respect as I now have my two sons, Mike and George with me.

My youngest son, George, was an excellent carpet installer by the time he was a sophomore in high school and continued to improve during his junior and senior year.

He then joined the navy and saw the world. He was in Vietnam and to Japan three times, which he really loved. He was on the famous U.S.S. New Jersey and on this ship they had the best machine shop going and he became an excellent machinist and since this is such a high paying profession I was scared he wouldn't come back here.

Thank goodness, he finally came back and has been in charge of installation, and he is really an artist with carpet.

My son Mike started sweeping out our furniture store as soon as he could hold a broom and progressed through all the steps of furniture and carpet retailing.

For the past ten years he was running a large furniture store in Columbus and I didn't think we'd ever get him back. But due to an unfortunate sickness by the owner of the store we got a chance to talk him into returning.

Since he came down here, two of the biggest chains in Columbus have been calling him with offers to join them. I hold my breath each time.

But he tells me this is where he is going to stay.

I told the boys the store is theirs. I'll help them all I can.

They immediately told me the word is "Progress".

They are ready to grow. We have a wonderful business of good customers sending us their relatives, friends, neighbors because they were so happy with the carpeting we did for them. Our real-estate friends send us customers because they know we'll do a good job and enhance their reputation, plus they want to give good service to their clients.

Mike just came in with a big bunch of wallpaper books from Imperial Washable Wallpaper Co. So we will be in the wallpaper business.

It should be interesting to watch their progress. I know I'm going to be thrilled with it and invite you to join by coming by and seeing the wonderful values we'll have for you our customers, who are the most important people in the world. Without you the store doesn't mean much. (Remember that when you go to some of the stores that don't even want to wait on you)

Come in. You're invited. The boys are going to build this store for you.

Thank our suppliers for these savings. We have a good relationship with our suppliers and when we told them we wanted some exceptional buys for our customers for February, they came through with some dandy buys, as you will see when you come in. We listed a few of the many good deals they gave us. If you need carpet this is a real good time to save on these.

Beautiful Kitchen ...

There are four of the most beautiful kitchen prints you'll ever see. Just tremendous. Rubber backed, close woven, easy to clean. Since most kitchen prints sell for $10 to $12 a yard, we advise you to see these soon.

5⁸⁸

Gorgeous Living Room ...

Round wire sculptured nylon with years of good looking wear here. From one of the best names in the business. Ten beautiful colors for your selection. This is a good carpet at a really low price.

4⁸⁸

Pretty Indoor/Out ...

They gave us seven colorings in rubber backed tweed for this February sale. Today's most popular long wearing carpet for kitchens, dens, bedrooms. You'll delight in the wonderful saving and value.

4⁸⁸

Best Selling Shag ...

Our most popular shag both for beauty and ease of cleaning. Never sold this low before. 7 of the best and most wanted colors. The designer is to be complimented on the job he did on this carpet. You'll love it.

6⁸⁸

TRY THIS METHOD

We have many builders and real estate companies here which we carpet for regularly. Their method is to come in with their carpet needs and a budget. We then work out the yardage, etc. and submit to them the carpets they can use within the budget which are the best buys. Of course we consult our suppliers for any mill-ends, close-outs, reductions which would save our customers money. Our contract customers love it. We'd be glad to work with you the same way. You will get the best carpet job for the least money that you've ever had.

Pad On Sale Too!

One of our suppliers gave us a regular $1.95 a yard bubble pad to sell for $1.25 during this sale. It is natural rubber, and will stay luxuriously bouncy. It doesn't have clay in it for added weight. It's the real thing ... real good buy.

Cats Used To Study Acupuncture

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—An Oberlin College professor said his acupuncture experiments with cats show that there is more to the ancient Chinese form of medicine than the power of suggestion or hypnosis.

"It might be a physical thing," said Dr. Loche Van Atta, who teaches physiological psychology. "I'm not going to say flat out that we think it is. But some claim acupuncture is all hypnosis and I rather doubt it."

Van Atta and two of his students have experimented with 35 cats over the last year and a half, studying the effects of pinpricks on brain cell activity.

The pinpricks are inflicted with and without the use of acupuncture needles and are used to measure pain.

If the brain cell responds differently when the acupuncture needles are used, "then we have some reason to think acupuncture stimulation has affected the property of the cells," Van Atta said.

His work was published last spring in the American Journal of Chinese Medicine, and another article is to appear next month in the fourth volume of Advances in Neurology, Van Atta said.

Van Atta lectured on results of his experiments at the Institute of Chinese Science here.

Ford Advised Not To Give In

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Rep. John Buchanan, R-Ala., advised Vice President Gerald Ford "not to give in" to pressure to become the chief defender of President Nixon's critics.

Buchanan said the nation needs Ford's moral leadership, not someone to follow former Vice President Spiro Agnew's policy of answering attacks on Nixon.

He said Ford "has the qualities of character that people want today. We need Ford... expressing the goodness that is in him," the five-term congressman told a church group.

Veteran's Memorial Hall will be comedian Speck Rhodes and the Wagonmasters Band. They are featured regularly on the nationally syndicated television show as well as the road show.

One of 12 children, Dolly Parton grew up in the hills of East Tennessee and began singing at country churches, revival meetings and rural social events even before she was sold enough to go to school. As soon as she graduated from high school, she went to Nashville to live with her uncle, Bill Owens.

Her first few years in Nashville were not very successful but by the time she joined the Porter Wagoner show in 1967, she had at least two records which had done pretty well on the charts. Since then she has moved into the ranks of superstar.

Just as Dolly's was a true Cinderella story, Porter also came from meager beginnings. Born on a farm in West Plains, Mo., He had to quit school in the sixth grade to help support the family because his father was disabled by arthritis. His brother, Glen Lee, taught him to play the guitar. While he was still very young, he managed to save enough money from selling rabbits which went for family support to buy an $8 guitar.

The two brothers made good musical progress in the rural area but when Glen Lee died of a heart condition, Porter suffered emotionally as well as musically. His first break came when he signed a recording contract in 1951 with RCA. Ten years later, he was a national success.

Cloudy and mild with occasional rain tonight. Low tonight 35 to 40. Tuesday variable cloudiness with chance of showers in the morning and cooler. High in the 40s. Probability of precipitation 80 per cent tonight and 30 per cent Tuesday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio appears to be in for more above-normal temperatures at least into the middle of the week.

Readings this morning were in the upper 30s and 40s across the state with cloudy skies and occasionally heavy patches of fog.

Temperatures were to reach the 40s and possibly the 50s this afternoon, dropping back tonight into the 40s again.

Rain in Western Kentucky and Indiana was moving northeastward and was expected to push across Ohio today. Occasional rain should continue tonight as a low pressure system in Kansas moves eastward.

By Tuesday, the low should be moving down the St. Lawrence Valley and rain in Ohio was expected to become a thing of the past.

Fertilizer Pinch To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department specialist says the tight supply situation in fertilizer will continue for at least another year.

But Richard B. Reidinger says higher prices for nutrients is stimulating fertilizer plant construction in many parts of the world.

Reidinger of the department's Economic Research Service said in a report issued today that a "logjam of circumstances" has created the fertilizer crunch. The foremost reason has been soaring global demand for additional chemicals, he said.

Rich and poor countries alike have been using more fertilizer to boost crop production, a demand that has caused prices to skyrocket as supplies fail to keep pace.

Lawmakers Want Agency Changed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio lawmakers want Ohio's Bureau of Crippled Children's Services transferred from the state Department of Public Welfare to the Department of Health.

Reps. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, and C. William O'Neill, R-28 Columbus, introduced a bill in the House authorizing such a change.

In a statement, the two claimed the welfare department's problem in paying health care providers was damaging services to crippled children.

The energy crisis is also a factor because petroleum and natural gas are prime sources for chemical components.

"Theoretically, the abrupt reduction in fertilizer availability in developing countries could reduce potential for building food self-sufficiency," Reidinger said. "In developed countries, declining imports of fertilizer could draw down yields and acreage planted, necessitating higher imports of agricultural products."

Reidinger said rising fertilizer prices have helped spur interest in new plant construction in a number of countries, including expansion in the oil-rich Middle East where natural gas is readily available.

Exports of U.S. fertilizer soared last year as world prices jumped above domestic prices controlled by the Nixon administration. Those wraps were removed from fertilizer last Oct. 25, and higher U.S. prices have boosted shipments to farmers and other domestic users.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says the fertilizer outlook for 1974 has improved since last fall.

"At that time, fertilizer manufacturers agreed to divert to domestic markets 1.5 million tons of fertilizer which had been scheduled for export, to do what they could to keep marginal plants in production and open closed plants, and to speed up completion of fertilizer plants under construction," Butz said recently.

"We have some indication that fertilizer sales to farmers during the fall of 1973 were substantially above sales for the same period in 1972," he said.

Butz conceded, however, the supply for nitrogen and phosphate fertilizers will remain extremely tight in 1974 and promised to monitor the situation closely.

"The teachers are very friendly and I would like to become friends with the students", commented Celia de Carvalho, exchange student from Campinas, Brazil.

Upon her return home in March, Celia will begin her second year of high school. Brazilian students attend school during the months of March, April, May, June, August, September, October, and November. The vacation months are usually spent in homes at the various beaches of Brazil.

Celia lives with her parents, two older brothers, and their dog, Palito, on a 400 acre farm. Her older sister is married. Mr. Carvalho is the administrator of the farm, whose chief products are coffee, horses, and cattle.

She is living with the Williams Easterday family of Williamsport. She has two American sisters, Becki and Amy, and one brother, Marc.

The petite, 16-year-old enjoys reading, music, and traveling. Her future plans are to become a veterinarian.

Mustang Country would like to welcome Celia to Westfall, and invite all students to become acquainted with our South American friend.

DENNIS KARSHNER

By JILL LONG
"I feel the students at Westfall are well-disciplined and respectful," stated Dennis Karshner, Social Studies teacher at Westfall.

Karshner came to Westfall this fall, graduating from Ohio University in August 1973, with a major in Social Studies Comprehensive.

He teaches Sociology, Psychology, World History and Economics, which involves sophomore, junior and senior students. Unfortunately, he contracted mononucleosis and was forced to miss half of the first semester.

Karshner also coaches the junior varsity basketball team, which now stands at a 7-4 record. "If the basketball players continue doing the job they have been, we should be able to finish the season at 14-4", stated the coach after the Piketon game.

The new teacher enjoys coaching, hunting, and watching television. He holds no future plans for the coming year.

The students at Westfall wish Coach Karshner and the junior varsity basketball team the best of luck in the remaining games of the season.

Daylight Time Exemption Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to give Ohio a second chance to exempt itself from Daylight Saving Time has been introduced in Congress by Ohio Reps. Tennyson Guyer, R-Findlay, and Delbert Latta, R-Bowling Green.

The bill would allow any state to exempt itself from DST by a majority vote of its legislature or by gubernatorial proclamation.

The congressmen claimed Ohio suffers a particular hardship under Daylight Saving Time because of its location on the extreme western edge of the Eastern Standard Time Zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Hubble attended the Church of the Nazarene Central Ohio District Sunday School Superintendents Retreat at Ramada Inn in Grove City.

The Rev. Ronald Pelton of Portage, Ind., was the speaker. Workshops were held and Hubble conducted the one on church school administration.

The bus fare in Rome is one of the lowest of any major city in the world — 50 lire or 8 cents.

Conserve gas like your job depended on it.

Because it might. American industry is the largest single user of energy . . . so the current shortage of natural gas poses a serious threat to jobs. The amount of gas available to business and industry depends in part on how much gas the residential customers consume . . . and how much they conserve.

The most important thing you can do now to save gas is set your thermostat down . . . set it six degrees lower than last winter, as recommended by the Federal Energy Office.

Other things you can do like insulating, weather-stripping, caulking, and cutting down your use of hot water will also conserve. The more gas you save, the more will be available for industry, the more available for jobs . . . maybe yours. Saving gas can help save jobs.

Conservation Court Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Conservation Society of Ohio wants a special environmental court set up in Franklin County to handle all pollution cases.

The Society charged judges in Ohio "made a mockery of Ohio's stream litter laws" in 1973 in a statement released Friday.

"In many cases, judges were much more lenient with polluters than with thieves," meting out suspended sentences in many cases.

The Society said, "Judges ignore the simple truth that no one has yet found a way to clean the oil out of a stream without killing what wildlife is left after the first shock of the pollution hits."

As the conservationists see it, the society should be empowered to issue fines and sentences in "direct proportion to the harm done by the polluter."

He Cast A Shadow

By JIM BISHOP

We drove around the back of the clapboard farmhouse in a golf cart. He cawed to the wild peacocks sitting on the fence, and they talked back. I kept reminding myself that the President of the United States talks to birds.

Lyndon Johnson died a year ago in Texas. He was 6 feet 2 inches and I suspect that, in the minds of Americans, he has grown taller. They called him a wheeler-dealer, and he was the best. The charmer, John F. Kennedy, dreamed great dreams for America but he couldn't win support from Congress.

When he died, the huge homely wheeler-dealer came in and the record shows that he enacted more progressive legislation than any other President in our history. He pushed the Kennedy program into law.

He was devious. He was suspicious. He cracked the whip over his Cabinet and demanded results. He put people in his debt. When he flew Air Force One home to Texas, Johnson invited Texas and Oklahoma Congressmen to accept a free ride.

When he made mistakes, they were monumental. His poverty program was abused by politicians; his battles for civil rights alienated the South without winning the black vote. When America stood in the quicksand of Vietnam, Lyndon Johnson called for the advice of his generals and admirals.

They said they could "wrap it up" if they had more men, more ships, more planes. He bowed to their superior knowledge and killed himself politically.

For a short time, Mrs. Bishop and I lived on the third floor of the White House. I was writing a book about Lyndon Johnson. To me, it was more like reading a book than writing one.

For the first two days, when we met, he scowled. On the third morning, he saw me in Mrs. Roberts' office. "How come," he said, "the White House staff likes you?" He was staring down at the top of my head. "Most of them know me from other administrations," I said. There was a silence. "What did you do, Mr. President," I said, "poll them?" He broke into laughter and slapped me on the back. "You're all right," he said.

And, from that moment, I was. I hit him with questions about foreign relations, about the war in Vietnam, about domestic policies and budgets. I asked him to think first, before answering, whether the questions might involve national security. "Don't worry," he said. "I'll do enough thinking for both of us."

He ran a taut ship. No White House employee ever went home without leaving word with the telephone operators stating where he or she could be reached—whether at a movie or a party.

In the evening, he often phoned friends at the last moment and said: "Turn off the oven and come on over for dinner. Bird and I feel lonesome for some good company."

There was a sign over the big White House range which stated: "Please don't ask the President to have seconds.—Mrs. Johnson." He wanted to tear that sign down, but he didn't have the nerve.

Before he made a major speech, he always stood in the bedroom and read it aloud as Mrs. Johnson sat listening. I asked why. "Hell," he said, "she has a degree in journalism."

To my eye, the old ranch house looked like $35,000 worth, not counting the small swimming pool. It was built by his aunt long ago. Down off the slope of green lawn the smooth rocks glistened in the shallow Pedernales River. He had waded in it as a boy. When his heart first faltered in 1956, he ached to go back to boyhood days.

At home, he was no longer President. He was a Texas Ol' Boy and he spoke like one. "Ain't them birds purty?" he said in the golf cart. When he got to Texas, he put on a wrinkled yellow sports shirt, tan slacks, and sat on a chair tilted against the wall in the kitchen.

Two black cooks worked the stoves. Steam and smoke lifted from the burners. "All right," he would say. "I ain't been home in three months. I want all the local gossip—hear?" The cooks laughed, told him who married whom; who died; who bought a piece of land; what the preacher at the Christian Church had been lecturing about—all the latest dirt.

He loved those sessions in the kitchen. Once he took me out to the little private cemetery hidden under the spread of a live oak. I thought of

YMCA Room Rental Operations Closed

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Middletown YMCA has decided to close its room rental operation because of declining registrations.

Executive Director B. P. Allen blamed affluence, the availability of modern apartments and changing times.

The facility, built in 1922, had rooms for 90 men. The two floors of single rooms have had a 35 per cent occupancy rate, he said.

UCLA Blasts Irish, 94-75

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

There was a return to normalcy over the weekend in college basketball. "They're No. 1, no doubt about it," admitted Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps after his Irish were whipped 94-75 by mighty UCLA Saturday night in Los Angeles.

"They beat us. They were very, very good," added Phelps. "That UCLA shooting was just unbelievable."

The Bruins, who saw their record 88-game winning streak snapped 71-70 at Notre Dame a week ago, wasted little time in getting revenge. Encouraged by a frenzied, partisan crowd of 12,874, Bill Walton opened the game with a hook, Tommy Curtis followed with a three-point play and UCLA raced to a 9-0 lead. The cold-shooting Irish were held scoreless for the first five minutes and the outcome of the much heralded rematch was never really in doubt.

In other games involving ranked teams, No. 3 North Carolina State beat Purdue 86-81; No. 4 North Carolina defeated No. 5 Maryland 82-73; No. 6 Marquette downed Chicago-Loyola 71-54; No. 7 Vanderbilt upended Mississippi 71-56; No. 8 Providence topped Rhode Island 78-64; No. 9 Alabama took Georgia 86-71; and No. 10 Long Beach State rocked Northern Illinois 106-71.

Also, No. 11 Indiana buried Northwestern 82-53; No. 12 Southern California dumped Fordham 70-60; No. 13 South Carolina edged Seton Hall 75-74; No. 15 Michigan got by Iowa 86-84 in overtime; No. 16 Pittsburgh coasted past Penn State 83-61 in a Sunday game; No. 17 Wisconsin beat Ohio State 69-64; No. 18 Centenary routed Southern Mississippi 103-87; No. 19 New Mexico held off Colorado State 54-49; and No. 20 Arizona State defeated Utah 82-74.

Walton, forward Keith Wilkes and freshman Marques Johnson were the prime movers in the convincing UCLA triumph. Walton, the 6-11 two-time All-American, dominated inside while piling up 32 points and 11 rebounds before fouling out with 5½ minutes to go.

"I told my players to always try and hit the open man," added Bruins' Coach John Wooden. "We have a tremendous scoring machine in Bill Walton and, until they stop him, we should try to get the ball to him."

Wilkes contributed 18 of his 20 points in the first half and Johnson, a surprise starter, was impressive while scoring 16 points. John Shumate led Notre Dame with 25 points.

Phelps managed to find some consolation with the thought that no one else has beaten UCLA in three years. "The only thing I can say as far as our game last week is concerned," he said, "is that you can never take it away from us. We earned it. History is history."

North Carolina State, trailing by 15 points, managed to rally in the second half behind junior David Thompson. Thompson netted 26 points, including the go-ahead basket with 1½ minutes left.

Darrell Elston collected 20 points, hitting nine of 11 tries from the field, in North Carolina's win over Maryland. The Tar Heels cashed in on several turnovers to break open a close game midway through the second half.

Marquette, running off 12 straight points in the first half, recorded its 16th victory in 17 outings. Earl Tatum led the balanced Warriors' attack with 15 points.

Jeff Fosnes and Terry Compton teamed for 30 points in Vanderbilt's victory. The Commodores are 14-1 on the year and share first place in the Southeastern Conference with Alabama.

Freshman Bob Cooper scored 20 points and senior Marvin Barnes pulled down 23 rebounds as Providence made it 15 wins in 17 outings.

Charles Cleveland netted 33 points and Leon Douglas added 18 as Alabama upped its mark to 13-2.

UCLA Blasts Irish, 94-75

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

There was a return to normalcy over the weekend in college basketball. "They're No. 1, no doubt about it," admitted Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps after his Irish were whipped 94-75 by mighty UCLA Saturday night in Los Angeles.

"They beat us. They were very, very good," added Phelps. "That UCLA shooting was just unbelievable."

The Bruins, who saw their record 88-game winning streak snapped 71-70 at Notre Dame a week ago, wasted little time in getting revenge. Encouraged by a frenzied, partisan crowd of 12,874, Bill Walton opened the game with a hook, Tommy Curtis followed with a three-point play and UCLA raced to a 9-0 lead. The cold-shooting Irish were held scoreless for the first five minutes and the outcome of the much heralded rematch was never really in doubt.

In other games involving ranked teams, No. 3 North Carolina State beat Purdue 86-81; No. 4 North Carolina defeated No. 5 Maryland 82-73; No. 6 Marquette downed Chicago-Loyola 71-54; No. 7 Vanderbilt upended Mississippi 71-56; No. 8 Providence topped Rhode Island 78-64; No. 9 Alabama took Georgia 86-71; and No. 10 Long Beach State rocked Northern Illinois 106-71.

Also, No. 11 Indiana buried Northwestern 82-53; No. 12 Southern California dumped Fordham 70-60; No. 13 South Carolina edged Seton Hall 75-74; No. 15 Michigan got by Iowa 86-84 in overtime; No. 16 Pittsburgh coasted past Penn State 83-61 in a Sunday game; No. 17 Wisconsin beat Ohio State 69-64; No. 18 Centenary routed Southern Mississippi 103-87; No. 19 New Mexico held off Colorado State 54-49; and No. 20 Arizona State defeated Utah 82-74.

Walton, forward Keith Wilkes and freshman Marques Johnson were the prime movers in the convincing UCLA triumph. Walton, the 6-11 two-time All-American, dominated inside while piling up 32 points and 11 rebounds before fouling out with 5½ minutes to go.

"I told my players to always try and hit the open man," added Bruins' Coach John Wooden. "We have a tremendous scoring machine in Bill Walton and, until they stop him, we should try to get the ball to him."

Wilkes contributed 18 of his 20 points in the first half and Johnson, a surprise starter, was impressive while scoring 16 points. John Shumate led Notre Dame with 25 points.

Phelps managed to find some consolation with the thought that no one else has beaten UCLA in three years. "The only thing I can say as far as our game last week is concerned," he said, "is that you can never take it away from us. We earned it. History is history."

North Carolina State, trailing by 15 points, managed to rally in the second half behind junior David Thompson. Thompson netted 26 points, including the go-ahead basket with 1½ minutes left.

Darrell Elston collected 20 points, hitting nine of 11 tries from the field, in North Carolina's win over Maryland. The Tar Heels cashed in on several turnovers to break open a close game midway through the second half.

Marquette, running off 12 straight points in the first half, recorded its 16th victory in 17 outings. Earl Tatum led the balanced Warriors' attack with 15 points.

Jeff Fosnes and Terry Compton teamed for 30 points in Vanderbilt's victory. The Commodores are 14-1 on the year and share first place in the Southeastern Conference with Alabama.

Freshman Bob Cooper scored 20 points and senior Marvin Barnes pulled down 23 rebounds as Providence made it 15 wins in 17 outings.

Charles Cleveland netted 33 points and Leon Douglas added 18 as Alabama upped its mark to 13-2.

Leonard Gray hit on 10 of 14 shots and collected 22 points in Long Beach State's one-sided romp. All five 49er starters hit for double figures and Rick Aberegg added 15 assists.

Steve Green was the top man for Indiana with 24 points. Gus Williams hit 16 points and Mike Westra added 12 in Southern Cal's triumph. Mike Dunleavy gave South Carolina its margin of victory by sinking a pair of free throws with just seven seconds left.

Freshman Steve Grote's 27 points helped Michigan survive against Iowa. Billy Knight scored 20 points and Mickey Martin added 16 as Pitt ran its win streak to 15 games, second to Maryland-Eastern Shore as the longest string among major colleges.

Wisconsin, 11-2, piled up a 17-point lead and then held on behind Gary Anderson's 18 points for the win. Robert Parish and Barry McLeod scored 24 points apiece as Centenary made it 13 victories in 14 outings. New Mexico, playing without its top two scorers, who were suspended for missing curfew, held Colorado State scoreless for 11 minutes of the second half with a stall. Lionel Hollins' 19 points was tops for Arizona State, 12-5.

Minnesota Rips Winnipeg Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota Coach Harry Neale let the full impact of the scoring binge his Fighting Saints unleashed against the Winnipeg Jets sink in and then summed it up in one word: "Unexplainable."

That's one way to describe the Saints' 12-2 triumph over the Jets Sunday night that set World Hockey Association records for the most goals scored in a game and by scoring 10 consecutive goals without a reply.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORTUNE DAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Put theories and practice in proper relationship, remembering the facts should decide ideas, plans. Choose wisely when faced with two courses of action.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Don't scatter energies and do avoid extravagance. Do not be dismayed at lack of progress. At times, plans do not "jell" as quickly as desired.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Be realistic now and pursue only worthwhile goals. Opportunity offered through the clever use of your creative ability.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Very encouraging influences. Things will be happening fast during this period. Gear your actions to handle the stepped-up pace.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Your Sun auspicious. Be on the lookout for good leads, projects with substantial background.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Share your joys and happiness with dear ones: Seek their opinions and aid when needed. Rason things out to a logical conclusion, then initiate appropriate measures.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Avoid entangling situations and decipher ambiguous statements slowly enough to eliminate errors. Clear the atmosphere so as to make sound decisions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A good period for gathering knowledge and imparting it in the right places. Act vigorously but without aggression.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Jupiter generously influences all endeavors now, but avoid impulsiveness. You can achieve much in your usual competent manner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Under mild planetary influences you are expected to maintain a stalwart position of responsibility. A good period in which to plan long-range projects.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): It will be important to take orders and handle extra tasks graciously; some persons are "on edge." Potent aids: Your personality and vitality.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Tie up loose ends. Get down to business, and do your best. The winner will be numbered among those who set forth wholeheartedly. Be logical.

YOU BORN TODAY have excellent staying power which keeps you on course no matter how many obstacles you encounter. This is a big factor in the successes you achieve. You are extremely versatile and could especially make your mark in literature or art. You are gregarious by nature and make friends easily, but are sometimes thoughtless of others' feelings, which alienates those who would otherwise be numbered among your closest associates. Try to be more considerate. Birthdate of: Wm. McKinley, 25th Pres., U.S.A.; Tom Paine, early Amer. author.

Hershey Bears Beat Swords

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Hershey Bears strengthened their berth at the top of the American Hockey League's Southern Division with a 5-2 win over the Cincinnati Swords, and the Rochester Amerks and Virginia Redwings played to the first scoreless tie of the season Sunday.

In other AHL action: The Nova Scotia Voyageurs blanked the Boston Braves 7-0; the Rhode Island Reds moved into a tie with the Northern Division's second-place Amerks by besting Jacksonville 5-3 and the Richmond Robins took a 6-3 drubbing from the New Haven Nighthawks.

Bobby Orr Hurt In Hockey Game

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr, the Boston Bruins' super star considered by many National Hockey League observers to be worth the initial cost of a team franchise, is limping again and out of the NHL's annual All-Star Game Tuesday night in Chicago.

Orr, plagued by knee injuries since becoming an instant star with the Bruins at the age of 18 in 1966, turned in his usual spectacular performance Sunday, leading Boston to a 5-3 nationally televised victory over the Philadelphia Flyers.

The basic unit of currency in the People's Republic of China is the yuan (pronounced yen) and it is worth about 43 cents. The largest denomination of money in circulation there is the 10-yuan note because, according to Emmett Dedmon's new book, "China Journal," the average wage in China is less than 100 yuan per month.

Hershey Bears Beat Swords

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Hershey Bears strengthened their berth at the top of the American Hockey League's Southern Division with a 5-2 win over the Cincinnati Swords, and the Rochester Amerks and Virginia Redwings played to the first scoreless tie of the season Sunday.

In other AHL action: The Nova Scotia Voyageurs blanked the Boston Braves 7-0; the Rhode Island Reds moved into a tie with the Northern Division's second-place Amerks by besting Jacksonville 5-3 and the Richmond Robins took a 6-3 drubbing from the New Haven Nighthawks.

Bobby Orr Hurt In Hockey Game

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr, star of the Boston Bruins' super star considered by many National Hockey League observers to be worth the initial cost of a team franchise, is limping again and out of the NHL's annual All-Star Game Tuesday night in Chicago.

Orr, plagued by knee injuries since becoming an instant star with the Bruins at the age of 18 in 1966, turned in his usual spectacular performance Sunday, leading Boston to a 5-3 nationally televised victory over the Philadelphia Flyers.

The basic unit of currency in the People's Republic of China is the yuan (pronounced yen) and it is worth about 43 cents. The largest denomination of money in circulation there is the 10-yuan note because, according to Emmett Dedmon's new book, "China Journal," the average wage in China is less than 100 yuan per month.

2 Separate Accidents Injure Five

Stephen H. Berry, 32, Columbus, was injured in one of the two separate accidents which were investigated by the State Highway Patrol Sunday evening. Berry was southbound on the Circleville-Canal Winchester Road at 7:30 p.m., five tenths of a mile south of the Franklin County Line, when a large dog ran in front of the vehicle causing Berry to lose control.

According to the report taken by Ptl. David Daley, the car went onto its side injuring both Berry and a passenger, Judith H. Berry, 32, also of Columbus. The couple received visible injuries but were not treated.

A second one-car accident which occurred at 8:30 p.m. Sunday on U.S. Route 23, two miles north of the southbound rest area caused injuries to three persons. The report made by Ptl. Dean Harrison stated that driver of the vehicle, Charles J. Sampson, 24, Columbus, was southbound on Route 23 when his wheels dropped off the right berm causing him to lose control of the vehicle. The car continued across the median and finally came to rest against a fence post on the east side of Route 23 northbound.

Sampson received injuries and was taken to Berger Hospital by the Harrison Township Emergency Squad along with two passengers, Paul Snyder and Charles Stillwell, 31, Columbus.

School Leaders Hold Meet Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Ohio school administrators were expected in Columbus today for a one-day meeting on energy conservation in schools.

The energy clinic is sponsored by the Council of Educational Facility Planners, International, located on the Ohio State University campus.

Martin W. Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, said the clinic is intended to acquaint administrators with conservation measures which can be put into effect immediately.

He said the educational community must cooperate in conserving energy during the crisis, but at the same time must try to avoid serious disruption of the educational program.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Robert Bausum, Ashville, has been dismissed from Mercy Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. James R. Franklin, 223 Cedar Heights Road, is a patient in room 944, Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

Market Entered, Nothing Missing

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt investigated a break-in occurring sometime between 1 a.m. Jan. 22 and 5 p.m. Jan. 26 at the D and L Market, New Holland.

According to owner Dale Everhart, New Holland, the thief entered the grocery store through a basement window.

Motive was unknown since nothing was taken.

say so and put the guy's family out of their grief. It's got to be better than going to bed every night hoping you're going to hear something."

It's a Sunday not quite like the others at Capt. Edward L. Grant American Legion Post No. 1225. National MIA Awareness Day, one year after the cease-fire. The war is over and done with, like a lousy summer job, with some missing men among the reminders.

Denny Sullivan, a 25-year-old policeman, and four of his buddies are shooting the breeze in the tiny barroom of the post, located in a tired old neighborhood of the Bronx called High-bridge.

There's Jack Conway and his younger brother Jim, Dickie Morrison, and Glenn Amlung. All are under 30, graduates of the same Catholic grammar school, products of the neighborhood, veterans of the Army.

While a basketball game blares from the television and old Tom Flynn keeps his counsel at the end of the bar, they talk about the Vietnam war and America's 1,100-plus men still missing in action.

"Everyone remembers, but it's no big deal anymore," says Sullivan. "Like at a family gathering, someone will say, 'Hey, what do you think about the POW-MIA situation.' And someone else will say, 'Yeah, it's a bitch. Pass the roast beef.'"

Jack Conway served 11 months in Vietnam. Now a salesman for a beer company, he doubts a full-scale effort is under way to account for the MIAs to whom President Nixon has dedicated the day.

Jim Conway, an electrician who joined the Army three years after his brother, feels the MIAs are no longer an issue that politicians will bring up. Not enough drawing power, he says.

"The politicians won't pull rank because everytime they bring it up, the liberals start their warmonger routine," Sullivan says. "Don't get involved, don't mention it. Just shut your eyes and the bogeyman will go away. That's the way they feel."

All five say they have been driving with their headlights on to show support for the MIAs, and Jack Conway thinks the idea of a special day is good. "You've got to remember the families on Memorial Day and Veterans Day and so forth, it's a way of showing them respect. You don't want to say it wasn't worth it."

The talk turns to the war. They say it could have been won if America turned on the power. But you do what you have to do.

"I'd go again," says Amlung, a bartender, and everyone agrees.

Shoplifting Spree Brings 3 Arrests

Two adults and a juvenile were taken into custody Sunday afternoon after being caught shoplifting at Buckeye Mart on the Lancaster Pike.

City police received a call at 2 p.m. from Mr. Mathews of Buckeye Mart informing them that he had apprehended three persons who were caught taking articles in the store.

Ptl. William Pontious and Mike Rinehart were dispatched to the scene. Upon arrival the officers took Delbert Thomas, 26, Hillsboro; Debra Jean Hughes, 20, Clarksburg; and a 15-year-old Clarksburg girl into custody.

They had a tape recorder, two radios, six packs of color film, a pair of slacks and a sweater in their possession which they had picked up in the store. The items were valued at $133.66.

All three were brought to city jail where the two adults were booked on charges of shoplifting and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. They are being held in city jail pending an appearance in municipal court.

The juvenile is being held in the juvenile detention center at Pickaway County jail pending her appearance in juvenile court today.
